

Ready to be Seen and Heard?

the better world campaign

Seen and Heard 2008 is looking to recognise young people who have used their communication skills to tackle an issue that's important to them; and for adults who have made a positive difference to young people's lives.

This form can be used by you to nominate either yourself or another young person for a Seen and Heard Award.

If you would like to nominate an adult, please visit www.btbetterworld.com for instructions on how to do this.

About the form

The information you include here will be used by a panel of young judges to decide the winning projects from around the world. To make sure you make the most of your entry, here are some important things to remember when completing the form:

- Type or print clearly in English.
- Share as much information about the project with us as you can.
- If you need more space, use a blank sheet and indicate clearly where your answers begin and end.
- You can also include any other exciting and fun materials that support your entry and help show us what you have achieved.

A: About you

Name of your project or programme

Name(s) and age(s) of the young person/people involved

Please tick the region in which the project or programme has taken place.

B: Keeping in touch

We need to know the name and details of your primary contact person. This is the person who will be responsible for representing your group. They will act as your voice and will liaise with the Seen and Heard team. Your primary contact person might be a youth worker, a parent or a young person over 16 years of age.
